WARDROBE

Introduction

English Wardrobe designs, manufactures and fits luxury fitted wardrobes, dressing rooms, walk in wardrobes, walk through wardrobes, mirror wardrobes and bespoke cabinets. Our doors are generally 'hinged wardrobe doors' and not 'sliding wardrobes', however, sliding doors can be manufactured to meet detailed matching design.

Our designs are inspired from periods of history, classic in every way, and the styles harmoniously blend into and compliment period homes and the modern homes of today.

Our contemporary designs visually enhance and functionally benefit the key areas of your living space. Whether you wish for painted white wardrobe or mahogany hardwood vintage wardrobes, a run or a wardrobe corner, our bespoke specialist service works with individuals seeking high quality finishes and a fully fitted wardrobe service.

This brochure offers a glimpse of what can be achieved when we take a client brief and work with our clients and or their designers and architects to produce beautiful crafted and finished furniture to a plan.

Regency

Our best selling wardrobe, classic yet contemporary.

The Regency period defines a change in British culture, resulting in architecture of the period such as The Brighton Pavilion.

Provoke breathtaking visual moments. This design illustrates, with cross fretwork, a structure and strength which befits that time of English industrial revolution, and the desires of the gentry and aristocracy.

Edwardian

ENGLISH
WARDROBE

The Edwardian wardrobe styles itself from the classic English panelling and doors that graced our houses from the Georgian period, through Victorian and Edwardian periods, distinguished by a 5 panel make-up. The Edwardian period brought around a more simple use of materials. However the style of this wardrobe is, we feel, timeless and will suit a variety of periods of home, right up to modern day.

Finish : Mink - Dulux

Georgian

ENGLISH
WARDROBE

A classic door style, the Georgian creates depth with inset panels in a 4 or 6 configuration, either plain or mirrored. To us, it is not surprising that the classic wardrobes continue to be the choice of the connoisseur.

Finish : Lady Char's Lilac - paintandpaperlibrary

Edwardian

With Mirror

ENGLISH
WARDROBE

The wardrobe is ideal where you would like furniture to blend with the natural details of a period property.

The use of mirror will add a dramatic and functional feature.

Finish : Edwardian White - Dulux

Metro

Metro is a contemporary wardrobe door design offering clean lines and structure. The design will also suit smaller and darker living areas including dressing room wardrobe areas to bring reflective light. Available in a plain or mirrored option.

Deco

ENGLISH
WARDROBE

The Art Deco movement influenced a unique style which, as with The Edwardian period and in time terms only lasted 15 years or so, but the resulting designs never died. Decadent line orientated shapes create an ambience and a visual splash of fun, with structure and a hint that, behind the doors, the owner will dress to impress!

Finish : Burnt Oak

With external drawers

Inspired by the Edwardian Linen Press, the classic panel doors sit atop deep, wide drawers on smooth Hafele runners. This classic wardrobe run will complement British period houses and work especially well on a run along a wall, end-to-end. Furniture Art at its finest, added to high functionality. Really pleasing on the eye, expertly crafted, made to measure fitted wardrobes.

Finish : Bone - Littlegreenpaintcompany

Victorian With Mirror

ENGLISH
WARDROBE

This design crosses over two periods of furniture design, cleverly combining The Art Furniture Movement with Arts & Crafts influences. Our Victorian wardrobe involves a 3 panel construction which, with use of mirrors, provides a twist to the more classic designs of that period. The style provides a difference to the design of Edwardian Mirror wardrobe.

Finish : Hand Painted - New White - Farrow and Ball

Bubble

Originally designed for Russell Brand, and using an irregular fretwork within a regular form, Bubble personifies individuality in furniture design; it distances itself from the pack creating a statement of contemporary freedom. Often the choice for daughters' and sons' bedroom wardrobes. To us, style has no boundaries, it's bubblicious!

Finish : Georgetown - paintandpaperlibrary

Revival

Revival, as the name suggests, seeks back to a time of elegance and panache. This popular wardrobe style is classical yet contemporary. And the fretwork, in circular form, sweeps over the mirror to provide a subtle veil. The style works in all periods of home.

Dressing Room

ENGLISH
WARDROBE

The Regency period brought the dressing room to the fore with both ladies and gentlemen using their own space to wash, dress and entertain their visitors in whatever guise. The modern day dressing space design fits with your lifestyle; your bespoke dressing room is your personal sanctuary, so make it count! We offer a fully bespoke design and fitted dressing room and dressing area service for the customer with an eye for detail. Surfaces and cabinetry from natural woods, contemporary folding tables and linen tables, stylish dressing tables, surfaces in hardwood, veneer or hand-painted to finish, with your space utilised to your own brief!

The example shows a walnut veneer finish to all cabinet surfaces, beautifully crafted to appeal to the connoisseur. Glass fronted hardwood surround drawers complement the style and natural look of the elegant wood. Lighting maximises the visual effect and classy feel.

Finish : Walnut

Pop

ENGLISH
WARDROBE

Pop's circular shaped fretwork creates a stunning wardrobe look especially into and around corner wardrobes. The period flirts with the Pop Art era, and we feel our Pop wardrobes would blend into rooms adorned with modern influences from that time. We like to think that Andy Warhol would have approved!

Finish : Off White - Dulux Trade

Modern
